Fines on Vessels Still Kept Up—Rumor that Lersundi Will Soon Retire—Sauta Anna—Reduction in Cable Tolls-Young Cubans Wanting to Become American Citizens-Revenue

No decision has yet been rendered by the Captain General in the case of the fines imposed upon Ameri-can vessels. The Consul is urging the claims to withdrawal, under fresh instructions received from ending rather than abating, and now vessels are ed here for the same frivolous causes as in

A rumor was extensively circulated here that eneral Lersundi would soon leave for Spain to take position in her Majesty's Cabinet. Diligent inqui-ries show that there is no foundation for the report, nents of $300. The amount the old cork leg has to pay is $6,000. He is truly hard up for money. His furniture will probably be attached, worth about $500, if sold at anction. What furniture he had in St. Thomas was not of such costly magnificence as

St. Thomas was not of such costly magnificence as was represented.

A new tariff is being prepared at the Indian Ocean Telegraph Office reducing the rates of telegrans by the Gulf cable, in lien of the present "provisional" scale. The prosperous condition of the company justifies this. The monthly receipts are by far larger than the stockholders ever anticipated.

An extraordinary number of young Cubans have of late been making application to become naturalized citizens of the United States, not only at the Consulate of Havana, but also at different vice consulates at the outports. They have been very much disappointed to find that other processes have to be resorted to than a simple application at a consulate. A great many will ere long be steering their way to American territory to "study English," and then become what they desire sos much to be—American citizens,

According to the General Custom House returns just published for March last, throughout the island, it appears that the arrivals amounted to 608 vessels, 181,944 tons, with 8,010 men. Of these 70 vessels were Spanish productive of revenues, 10 unproductive and 41 in ballast. The foreign vessels of the first class numbered 196, of the second class 99, and 198 of the third. The approximate value of the cargoes was $3,425,825, upon which duties to the amount of $603,540 were collected. As compared with the same month last year the returns show a decrease of $135,355. The number of vessels cleared was 608—196,190 tons, 7,623 men. Of these 29 were productive, bearing the Spanish flag, together with 53 unproductives and 40 in ballast. Those of foreign flags were divided into 227 productives, 229 unproductives and 91 in ballast. The value of the cargoes taken out is estimated at $7,389,344, upon which the duties (tonnage dues, &c.) were $424,335, giving an increase of $1,678 as compared with the amount collected in March, 1867.

The affair of Carlos Garcia, the Spanish shipping master, is going through its legal course. Garcia was summoned a few days ago to a proces verbal, when the defendant pretended that the assault was not perpetrated on the person of the Consul, but on Mr. de La Reintree, as a private individual. This was overruled, but as long as Mr. Seward does not move in the affair nothing will come out of it satisfactory to any one but Garcia.

Headquarters of the Rebels at Leogane in the South and St. Marc in the Northrages on Americans at Port au Prince.
PORT AU PRINCE, May 8, 1868.

We are in the midst of troublesome and exciting events, and the entire country is in a state of disorder. Two revolutionary movements have been declared against the government of President Sal-nave, in consequence of his having proclaimed himself Dictator—one in the South headed by General Petion Faubert and General Normil Dubois, of which headquarters are at Leogâne, and the other in nuarters at St. Marc. To the northern movement is surrection against the government service since linave was proclaimed President. The events of the last few days at Port au Prince are as follows:-May 1. Fête of agriculture. A proclamation of President Salnave that he had surmounted all ob-stacles and that a part of his army was before St.

May 2. About noon a report was circulated that the ministry had resigned, which was simply a trap to make the enemies of the government show themselves; in the afternoon the young mulattoes of the city attempted to make a movement in favor of the northern revolution, and succeeded in opening the prison and freeing all the prisoners. A coast steamer employed by the government arrived from Gonalves with despatches, which the insurgents tried to seize but did not succeed. The alarm gunstwere fred at 6 P. M. and the insurgents dispersed before the prison by the government troops, all concerned in the movement taking refuge in the different consultates. The firing was continued all the evening by the town police under cries of "Five Sainaver" although no enemies were seen and no opposition was made.

zation of the army; fourth, an address to the army; fifth, declaring the Department of the Artibonite besieged; sixth, General Nissage Saget declared a traitor and outside of the laws. In the afternoon rumors of fire, which caused many people to leave their houses and put their effects in safety.

May 4. Arrival of the Sylvain, corvette of the government, with President Sainave on board and the hundred troops. Proclamation declaring General Petion Faubert a traitor and outside of the laws. Foreigners and foreign consuls forbidden to protect any enemies of the government under threats of extreme measures. The consulates filled with people seeking protection.

Foreigners and foreign consults forbidden to protect any enemies of the government under threats of extreme measures. The consulates filled with people seeking protection.

May 5. Proclamation declaring Port au Prince under martial law. All men from fifteen to sixty-five called under arms. At three o'clock General Normil Dubots declared a traitor and outside of the law. At six P. M. a terrible brigandage and pillage occurred in this town. The soldiers, armed by the government, fired off volleys of musketry in the streets, shouting all the time, "Vive Sainave!" They fired on houses and stores without discrimination—hose of the friends as well as the opponents of the government. Many stores were broken into and pillaged, and until twelve o'clock the town was in the hands of the infuriated mob, although at any moment a few well organized troops could have put a stop to the whole affair. The house of an American, Mrs. Hamilton, was traversed by bails, although the American fing was flying at the time before the door. A respectable citizen of Port au Prince, Mr. J. B. Hepburn, a native of Virginia, was shot and wounded in his store by a rifie ball which traversed his door, and the mob attempted to pillage his bazaar, but the doors were strong enough to resist their attempts. Mr. Hepburn was obliged to crawl over the wall of his dwelling, and escaped to the Consulate, fainting on the way from loss of blood. These outrages were continued without opposition until the mob tired themselves out, and have not been disavowed by the government.

May 6. The town quiet, but the Custom House closed and business suspended. Foreigners are putting their families on board of the vessels in harbor for protection, and Haytien families are going to the country. News arrived here that the town of Miragone was captured by the Southern insurgents.

May 7. Quiet in the city. Business till suspended.

To-day (8th) business has been partially resumed and the Custom House opened. No news up till now from the headquarters of the revolutionist

Meeting of the Board of School Commissioners.

A stated semi-monthly meeting of this Board was held last evening at the hall of the Board, corner of Grand and Eim streets, the president, Mr. R. L. Larremore, in the chair. A large amount of routine business was transacted, after which Commissioner Vance, from the Finance Committee, reported that the Board had the financial ability to order work, as follows. Fraction of wings for grammar school No. follows:-Erection of wings for grammar school No.

the Board had the financial ability to order work, as follows:—Erection of wings for grammar school No. 12, in the Seventh ward, at a cost of $24,582; additions to grammar school No. 5, in the Fourteenth ward, at a cost of $12,586; furnishing the new grammar school No. 57, in the Twelfth ward, at a cost of $1,083; furnishing grammar school No. 58, in the Twenty-second ward, at a cost of $1,582; providing heating apparatus for primary school No. 18, in the Twenty-first ward, at a cost of $1,582; providing primary school No. 12, in the Fourth ward, at a cost of $2,507.

The Item in regard to school No. 5 was opposed by Commissioner Neilson on the ground that it was an unnecessary expense and that the building in question had already cost the city more than it was really worth, as the number of pupils attending there, he said, was very small, and he thought it would be more beneficial to consolidate the departments in that school and those of the school in flarios street, in the same ward. Commissioners west, Small and Warren spoke in favor of the matter, arguing that the building was one in which it was really dangerous to have children as, in case of fire, there would result a great loss of life, as the children's stairway was at the back of the building and totally unsafe. The reports of the Finance Committee were adopted, after which Commissioner Dupit the Finance Committee had neglected the claims of the Finance Committee was done there were adopted after which Commissioner Dupit the Finance Committee had neglected the claims of the Finance Committee had neglected the claims of the Finance Committee that he thought the Finance Committee had neglected the claims of the Finance Committee had neglected the claims of the Finance Committee that he thought the Finance Committee that he understood there were yet some $46,000 for the printer street, and the number of th port that the Board had the financial ability to order and pay for the work, amounting to $20,000. Commissioner Hall offered as an amendment that the committee report in favor of ordering the necessary alterations and repairs to primary school No. 27. amounting to $42,000. Commissioners Jackson and Vance spoke in opposition to the resolution and amendment, stating that as the year was not yet half gone, and there would be a great many repairs needed before the end of the year, it would be injudicious to order any additional heavy expenditures at this time. Commissioner Jackson thought, however, that the Twentieth ward school needed repairing much more than the Fifth ward school did, and Commissioner Vance argued to the effect that there were schools enough in the lower district, on the west side, to accommodate all the pupils that chose to attend them, without making any further additions to the school in North Moore street. He claimed that as the population of that portion of the city was being diminished by the advance of business, in a few years there would be little, if any, necessity for schools there. The amendment and resolution were both voted down, and the Board shortly after adjourned.
